8th March 2016

Dear Parents/Carers,

This Friday 11th March, we are holding a dressing up day to celebrate World Book Day (which was on 3rd March). The children need to come to school that day dressed up as a character from their favourite book. There will be prizes for the best costume in each class, which will be awarded at a special assembly in the afternoon.

Friday is also the day that the Book Fair arrives in school. The Book Fair will be open for children and their parents/carers after school every day from Monday 14th March to Thursday 17th March. This is a great opportunity for you and your child/children to look at some books and share an enjoyment of books and reading. Each book purchased will also help us to earn free books for the school. Please see the Book Fair leaflet for further information. Children will receive £1 book vouchers next Monday and these can be used towards the cost of books from our book fair.

In addition, as part of our World Book Day celebrations, we are lucky to have a real author coming into school to work with our children on Thursday 10th March. Simon Murray is an author and illustrator of children's fiction. He has illustrated the best-selling Mokee Joe stories and has written a series of picture books entitled Icky Doo Dah: The Fairground Fiasco, The Royal Bling Thing (Icky Doo Dah) and Icky Doo Dah The Christmas Hoo Hah!

We hope that the children will enjoy our World Book Day celebrations, and that you will take the opportunity to look at the Book Fair with your children.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs L Tovey and Mrs S Moran
